

About JoAnna Lamb (past Squaw Butte Member)

Welcome to Great Basin Buckaroos! I'm your author, JoAnna Lamb. I hope to bring you literature relative to the lifestyle we live out here in the West. Where is 'out here'? The Great Basin Region isn't so much a place as it is a lifestyle. The cowboys are referred to as "Buckaroos" deriving from the Spanish word "Vaquero" here is a lot of Spanish influence over the area handed down from the Original Californio's of the mid 1800's. The way they handle stock, make good horses and the gear they use has been handed down for many generations. Ranching and Buckarooing are family affairs out here. The children are riding as soon as they can sit a horse and the roles of men and women are equal. It's a good life but no less dangerous than it was over 100 years ago. The terrain is harsh, remote and beautiful. The weather and the stock are both unpredictable. They wouldn't have it any other way!

"The rope is 60'+ of hand braided rawhide, the chaps are chinks, the scarf-pure silk, the bit is a spade and the hats are flat! Welcome to the Great Basin! Grant Anderson and his family have been loyal hired hands to the Roberts family for many years. One long, hot summer cattle start to disappear, just a few at a time and only the most expensive Purebred Black Angus ones. Where in the world could they be going and who could be behind it? Neighborhood drama abounds in this contemporary Western Novel filled with Buckaroo culture, side plots and surprises around every corner. Just how well do you think you know your neighbors and can you even trust your own family?"

Foreword

I started this venture thinking I was just going to do a instructive guide for a few people in a group I belonged to: The Backcountry Horsemen of Idaho (Squaw Butte Chapter) but it soon became so much more than that! I had no idea it would have so many applications for everyone that deals with equines.

This book is written for the serious packer but will assist everyone from hunters, trail riders and cowboys and extending to those that travel with their horses such as show horses or rodeo contestants. Help might not always be just around the corner and knowing what to do may save your horses' or mules' life!

Many of you will look at the first aid kit we have put together and say "But I use '____' all the time." or you prefer injectable drugs to the difficulty of trying to give oral drugs. In consulting with both veterinarians, we collectively concluded that this manual is written for Back Country Medicine with a variety of skill levels and storage limitations and these products can be mis-used/be harmful or irritating and cause further problems. We elected to include only what we decided was safe for everyone and easy to pack.

I also like to say, this would not have been at all possible without my dear friends and Veterinarians, Dr. Brett Bauscher DVM and Dr, Douglas Pesnell DVM. We all debated and discussed every little detail over and over again. Thank you so very much to both of you! This was fun!
